

MORNING APPEAL.

Tuesday.....February 15 1887.

Two Laws Confounded.

The Evening Report confounds the law requiring the printing of the tax roll with the delinquent tax list. If the Chronicle charged $2 a square together with the description of the property it was not an excessive charge as frequently the descriptions of the property occupy several squares. The price per name for the tax roll is but 20 cents and for that small sum every taxpayer is provided with a printed list, arranged in alphabetical order, of all the taxpayers of the county, and at a glance he can tell if his neighbor is taxed equally with himself. Since the law was passed less property has escaped taxation for the publicity given to the tax assessment prevents a good many cautious people from giving false estimates of their property for fear that their neighbors will comment upon their action. There is a bill before the House now to repeal this law. The dodgers of taxes are anxious to see the law repealed but they are not likely to accomplish their purpose. The bill will be killed as soon as it comes to a final vote.

A Scarcity of Grain.

In conversation last week with H. H. Beck, the flour man, he stated that the State was 5,000 tons short in grain of all kinds, and that the supply must come from California. The flour mills here are running on half time, and if double the amount of grain now obtainable could be had, the mills could use it, and dispose of the whole product. Mr. Beck thinks he could afford to contract for the whole wheat crop of this State for the next year at $1.75 per 100 pounds. Ranchers along the line of the railroads, have been selling at 90 cents and $1 per 100 pounds, for the previous year or two, and in consequence of these low prices had failed to sow sufficient acreage to supply the present demand. The grain raised in Nevada excels that raised in California, and should be more extensively cultivated. Mr. Beck took samples of wheat East with him to show the farmers of Ohio what we can do in Nevada in the way of producing grain.—Rene Gazette.

The Message Exposed.

The Chronicle has shown the fact that Governor Stevenson copied his inaugural message after that of Governor Foraker of Ohio. It is a very able, short and concise document in the hands of Foraker, and we desire to call attention to the fact that it is shorter, abler and more concise in the hands of Governor Stevenson. Governor Foraker is very popular among the workingmen of Ohio, and he is making an enviable record for himself as an able and conscientious Executive. We are glad Governor Stevenson has taken such a model to work after.—Evening Report.

The Democratic papers are making an unnecessary noise over the message. It shows that they are quite at a loss to know what to talk about.

Idaho Street Talk.

The Evening Inter-Idaho has the following on annexation under the head of "Street Talk."

E. A. White says: "I lived in Nevada fourteen years; her people are generous, noble-hearted and energetic; she is the richest State according to population in the Union; she will next month have the ablest representatives of all on the floor of the Senate, and I am itching for an opportunity to vote for Jim Blaine in 1888."

P. M. Bruner says he, also, has lived in the "Battle-born" State and would like to do so again provided he could accomplish that feat without the expense of removing.

H. Bawa says: "I concur with Brother White in all except the Blaine clause."

Charley Haupt says: "By Jeemany! me too!"

—The story that James Fair lost a million dollars by getting drunk —because his father promised him a million to keep sober a year— raises a broad smile on this coast. Jimmy Jr. ran no risks; he knew perfectly well that the old man's promise wasn't worth a pinch of quartz dust. Meanwhile, he continues to fly his kite as high as ever while the old man sighs for more commandments to conquer.

—The APPEAL has received some marked copies of some articles nominating W. T. Coleman, of San Francisco, to the Presidency. Would be glad to print them at the regular advertising rates.
